Controversy Over Leontion of Proposed Viaduct Over Railroads.

BROUGHT UP BY STOCK YARDS PROPOSAL

Councilmen Consider that Stock Yards Company is Looking for Setter End of Bargain-Magle City Gossip.

"When the matter is formally brought to the attention of the city council," said a city official last evening, "there is going to be quite a fuss in regard to the location of the proposed viaduct across the tracks. While the manager of the Union Stock Yards company has seen fit to send communications to the Livestock exchange, the Commercial club and one or two improvement clubs, no proposition has been made to the council. The only knowledge the mayor and council has of the proposed bridge is a letter from the president of the the Commercial club. When these communications were read to the council Monalley committee.

be paid to the matter by the council until will be given notifying the department just there is some definite proposition submitted to the city authorities. In the letter sent by Mr. Kenyon to the organizations mentioned he asks for a deed from the city for such portions of Railroad avenue which have not already been vacated, and extending from a point on the south line of O street to U street. Mr. Kenyon further says: "If the closing of the grade crossing under the Q street viaduct and the transfer of that portion of Railroad avenue is accomplished, we will well-constructed viaduct for the crossing of passengers and teams over the tracks at some convenient point between N and P same in operation within one year."

Councilman Johnston and other members of the city government cannot understand why the stock yards company wants a deed to this property. "Never in the history of vacated ground for any purpose and given a deed to the property, and the chances are streets or alleys have been vacated for railroad purposes, the city has merely passed an ordinance, according to law, and that ended the matter."

The portion of Railroad avenue desired by the Union Stock Yards company comprises about three and one-half acres, and is especially valuable for trackage pur-It is doubly valuable to the stock yards company, for the reason that the yards own a strip of property directly east of and abutting on Railroad avenue. acquiring Railroad avenue the yards will have trackage property of enormous value. One well-known real estate dealer said yesterday that the portion of the streets the stock yards company wants vacated is worth not less than $75,000. A railroad official, who is entirely disinterested, is quoted cial, who is entirely disinterested, is quoted as saying that for trackage purposes the 2,500 feet on Railroad avenue which the 205 North Twenty-fourth street. city is asked to vacate is worth nearly if not quite $100,000.

"What we want," said a city official, "is payment to the city for this land, and also some definite proposition from the Union Stock Yards company and the Union Pacific Railroad company regarding the construction of a viaduct.' It seems strange that the stock yards company is so anxious all at once to build a bridge when the says F. D. Reynolds of Mansfield, O., "and days from date of sale. For detailed inyears. across the tracks will be constructed." In the selection of the eastern terminus of the proposed viaduct there is going to be quite a squabble. A great many people would like to see the bridge terminate on the ground just south of the Rawley block at the Boyd last season, will be seen for on Twenty-sixth street, while others are willing to give to the railroad companies the foot of O street for a terminal point. Property owners on O street are working hard for their end of the street, while N street business men want to see the bridge constructed midway between N and O

Even with all of the differences of opinion, nearly everyone is anxious to have viaduct built, in order that the dangerous track crossing may be done away with. Jones Serves Notices

Sanitary Inspector Jones, who is secretary of the South Omaha Board of Health, served notices on the principals of the public schools yesterday regarding the compulsory vaccination rule recently passed by the board.

Superintendent McLean remarked that the serving of the notices left the Board of Education out entirely, as no official notice was served either on the president of the board or the superintendent. Consequently and 9:15 p. m. No change in departure of no attention will be paid to the service of notice on the principals.

"If the Board of Health wants to have the school board pay any attention to its regulations," said a member of the board last night, "It will have to serve its notices officially and not send an agent around to the various schools with a big bluff talk. The way to serve such notice was to call upon Superintendent McLean and the president of the board and then the principals of the schools would have been notified in due time."

As it is, the relations between the Board of Health and the Board of Education are slightly strained.

City Officials Positively Decline. Members of the city council stated positively yesterday that the city would not, under any circumstances, pay for medicines to be furnished to the assistant county physician. "This has been done in emergency cases," said Councilman Johnston yesterday afternoon, "but as long as the BOSTON STORE BUYS FUR STOCK. city has a physician of its own the assistant county doctor will not receive any help from the city. Should County Commissioner O'Keeffe make any suggestion of the kind to the council it will be turned down, as in our opinion there is no need of a county and a city doctor.

Other city officials say that there is no need of an assistant county physician here now and such an official will receive scant recognition in case one is employed by Mr. O'Keeffe.

The snowstorm scene is one of the most realistic bits of business ever seen on the local stage? 'Way Down East" has had the unqualified endorsement of the clergy and press wherever it has been presented. The same splendid cast that gave it last season is still handling it.
